St Mary's and St John's Annual Parochial Meeting will be held at 11.45 on 17 May in St John's.

Since I came to Totnes as Rector, people often ask me, “What’s your vision?” I’ll be honest, I find that a bit disconcerting. I don’t really think I have a vision of my own, beyond the one foundation that’s already been laid: Jesus Christ. That must be central. The power of God in the Risen Christ is why churches exist in the first place. Everything else comes after that, and it’s very easy for churches to get distracted by all sorts of other agendas.

So, when I think about our churches here in Totnes, the first thing I want to say is that they are sacred spaces — places of prayer and worship before anything else. But I also believe strongly that, as Anglicans, part of our calling is to support whatever lifts and enriches the human spirit. That’s where the particular character of each church really matters. Each has its own role to play, even though there’s plenty of overlap and working together.

St John’s has become a place of daily welcome and hospitality. I love seeing it used almost every day of the week for things like Stepping Stones and the Warm Hearts Café. It’s a church where people can come for warmth, company, and support, and that’s an incredibly important part of our witness. I am excited at the prospect of raising funds to improve the first floor, which has the potential to be an amazing community space.

St Mary’s, with its beauty and sense of history, is a wonderful place for worship, heritage, music, and the arts. It was a real joy on the 19 March to hear Luke Wallace and the Totnes Harmony Choir in there singing ‘Go easy on the earth / lightly on the water / Remember this place is for your sons and daughters / Easy on the earth, lightly on the waters / Remember who this place is for’. It reminded me how powerful music and words can be in opening hearts and sustaining community. When we host events like that, I think we’re doing something genuinely good. This is what I want to see more of at St. Mary’s. I could happily spend all day there, just engaging with people as they come in or pass by. Much better than sitting at a computer trying to write a ‘mission statement’ or ‘vision casting’.

None of this happens on its own. It only works because we’re willing to build relationships and partnerships with others, and I see that as a real strength. But what makes a church more than just a community centre or a music venue is prayer, worship, spiritual teaching and trusting in God. If what we do doesn’t help people become rooted and grounded in the love of Christ, then we’ve missed the point. So that’s what I personally prioritise. That, for me, is the vision. Or, as the old Irish hymn puts it: “Be Thou my vision, O Lord of my heart. Be all else but naught to me save that Thou art”

Why do we believe community important? Alison Fisher

As Christians we are called by God to be in community. Scripture constantly reminds us we are a single body with many indispensable parts who need to serve each other, work together and love each other. Sometimes easier said than done of course, but I believe that's what we're trying to achieve in our church community here in Totnes and Bridgetown. Here are some references:

1 Corinthians 12:12-27 speaks of the body of many parts: 'you are the body of Christ and individually members of it'.

In John 13: 34-35 Jesus says 'Just as I have loved you, you also should love one another. By this everyone will know that you are my disciples'.

1 Peter 4:10 'serve one another with whatever gift each of you has received.'

And in Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians (Ephesians 2: 19-22) he reminds the early church ' you are no longer foreigners and strangers, but fellow citizens with God's people and also members of his household...with Christ Jesus himself as the chief cornerstone.... In him you too are being built together to become a dwelling which God lives by his Spirit.

(Colossians 3: 15-17). 'Let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts, since as members of one body you were called to peace...whatever you do, whether in word or deed, do it all in the name of the Lord Jesus.'

What is our church community like? Carolyn Stilwell

We sometimes sing a song by Marty Haugen called "All are welcome".

The verses describe a community of love and peace, where people feel cared for and safe, where people forgive each other, laugh together, cry together and share hopes, dreams and visions.

A place where faith in Jesus Christ is strengthened and nourished with strong confident and true teaching. The cross is at its centre, a constant reminder of God's love, grace and forgiveness and a highlight is celebrating together in the sharing of bread and wine.

A place from which everyone reaches out to heal, strengthen, serve and help others.

A place where anyone of any age, well known or a stranger, is acknowledged, as all are precious and made in the image of God.

"Let this house proclaim from floor to rafter: All are welcome, all are welcome, all are welcome in this place."

The Monastery of the Heart, by Joan Chittister reviewed Viv Elce

This is an unusual book. It is written in blank verse which gives the words extra impetus. Chittister attempts to re-interpret the Rule of Benedict for modern times and in doing so 'instructs both mind and heart with a holy gladness' (Phyllis Tickle). Her wise words are widely applicable to our everyday lives as believers in the 21st century. They are challenging but never heavy, relevant but never trite. It's a book that can be dipped into or read from start to finish. I want to quote from the chapters on Community. Her words speak for themselves:

Community is a matter
of the heart
and the mind.

It cannot be created
by place alone,
and it cannot be destroyed
by distance alone.

Community building does not just happen.
It cannot be taken for granted.

It requires great trust
that is generated by a continuing display
of great human care
that begins with me,
and then comes back to me.

It takes a great deal of energy
to create community.

And in today's world,
community takes many shapes.

The complacent community
asks itself no difficult questions
that might require new efforts to answer.

Benedictine spirituality sets out
to build communities
that, together seek the universal God,
that hold the wounded of the world
in one heart,

and that serve the world
by being for it
oases of peace and prayer,
beacons of truth and justice.

In a monastery of the heart
we must begin to define community globally
rather than simply locally,
and work at every level to make it so.

Daffodils in St Mary's churchyard Trudie Headford

Do not neglect to do good and to share what you have, as such sacrifices are pleasing to God. Hebrews 13:16

Sharing with others is so important. Planting the Spring Bulbs at St Mary's last Autumn was a joyful uplifting experience. As the bulbs now bloom in Spring they bring joy and hope to not only me but our whole community.

Interview with Amy Chudley about Circle Group Viv Elce

Amy, can you tell me a bit about yourself?

Well, I've lived in Dartington for 17 years with my husband and 3 youngsters (two of them away from home now). I see myself as belonging to the Totnes Team group of churches and I especially value the small, monthly Circle group that meets in St John's church. I'm a professional artist, concentrating on Still Life paintings at present.

What is this Circle group?

Six of us sit in a circle round a candle for an hour in a contemplative stillness. The time is dedicated to the Spirit and we only speak when we feel moved by the Spirit. The idea is to really listen and not to react or respond. Diana Walters set the group up and facilitates it. I was initially drawn to join it by its link to the Centre for Action and Contemplation - Richard Rohr and others involved with that organisation have greatly helped me in my faith journey.

What do you gain from it?

The time is always really special and the group functions as an anchoring connection for me. It's very important to me. It feels a safe place where I can allow myself to be open, vulnerable and honest. The way it operates gives permission to properly listen to what others share and I love that. It often seems that others' sharing opens something in me. It all seems to flow together and is healing and restorative. I appreciate that.

Hildegard von Bingen Penny Martin

Singing Hildegard's music has been a revelation and a joy. Harriet and I have enjoyed the journey of choosing, learning and performing this ethereal music, created so many centuries ago by a brave and forthright woman. Her faith shines out from her inspiring words, matched by beautiful melodic lines of pure invention.

One parish, two churches

Susan Hilken

For the year while St Mary's was closed, Peter and I came regularly to St John's. We found a warm welcome there, and made some good friends. We live about half way between the two churches, and our primary loyalty is to St Mary's (despite the steeper hill). Unfortunately it's not possible to be a full member of both churches, but we intend to come to St John's once a month, to continue the enjoyable connections.

Church flowers

Anne Stephens

I look forward to making Christmas flower arrangements. After drab, cold December it is wonderful to walk into the church, and catch the scent of greenery and flower displays - red of poinsettias, carnations and roses, and shiny berries. I feel proud to be part of it all.

Now Spring is awakening and the group is making plans for the Easter Festival: glorious displays of daffodils, narcissus, primroses, muscari, and vibrant Spring foliage to celebrate the Resurrection.

It is always pleasing when someone comments on your efforts. I seem to be known as the porch lady. I am happy to be able to contribute to the Church in this way.

Religious poetry group

Ann King

I am a member of a poetry group where we read, listen and discuss poems addressing the challenges and rewards of faith dating from the Anglo Saxons to today. It is both a joy and enlightening to share, perhaps unexpectedly, our common experiences of faith across Millennia.

Cafe in St John's

Caroline Hunt

Oh, joy at St John's Cafe on Wednesday! So many lovely folk both inside and outside the kitchen. Lots of fun, laughter and crises with the tea cakes but most of all a great feeling of giving and receiving in equal measure.

Our God, some contend, is immutable
And their faith is indeed irrefutable:
When He does what He should
It's because "He is good."
When He doesn't, it's because He's inscrutable.

Christian Aid Week 2026 May 10-17

This May, our congregation joins thousands across the country for Christian Aid Week, a powerful moment of prayer, hope, and practical action. This year's theme is inspired by Christian Aid's "Growing Hope" initiative. In many parts of the world, families are struggling to harvest crops as the climate becomes more unpredictable. By providing tools, training, and climate-resistant seeds, Christian Aid helps turn barren land into flourishing gardens, ensuring that hunger no longer dictates a family's future.

Our theme this year is about planting the seeds of change. Your donations provide the "Growing Hope" kits—such as drought-tolerant pigeon peas or irrigation pumps—that allow communities to thrive despite environmental challenges.

How You Can Get Involved.

Come to an 80s disco night on Saturday 9th May in St John's Church. This fundraiser will be split between Christian Aid and our very important Lift Off project. See poster for more information.

Let's gather, eat, and grow hope together. Come to the "Souper Soup" pay-as-you-feel lunch after the service at St John's on Sunday 10th May.. Please sign up for your place. Volunteer soup makers - can you help?

Beyond our prayers, we are taking our mission into the community. We will be collecting at Morrison's on Friday 14th and Saturday 15th May. If you can spare an hour to hold a bucket and offer a smile, we would love your help!

Uplift! Project Update

Grace Deathridge & Jess Langton

The Uplift! Project has progressed significantly with the church now open. It's been wonderful for us to welcome people to see the rejuvenation of the building and hear their responses.

We had a fun February, with a successful 'soft' re-opening week, where we had two Uplift! Update tours with Father Jim, a buzzing Friends of St. Mary's community cafe, and a jam-packed organ recital. We had a convivial Community Organisers opening circle with various project partners who are in our Activity Plan over the next two years of the project - and hopefully beyond! It was good for us to meet each other in the church and also try out the brand new server. We were happy to facilitate people to re-engage with the space with shared silences twice a day throughout the week.

At reopening we installed our wonderful 'Capturing the Changes' exhibition in the north aisle of the church. This exhibition is the result of ten visits by 3 youth organisations who came to the church during the capital phase, Lifeworks, TRAYE and SPACE. The exhibition has been very popular and is on into the spring.

In February we started a new project with young people from TRAYE who have started to learn filming technique from a professional filmmaker and are creating a short film about the quirks and history of Totnes.

Our Heritage Research volunteers continue to 'wow' us, with research for our new Heritage Interpretation area and also doing training, researching and devising our brand new 'History of St. Mary's Tours'. We are preparing for our Easter Uplift! Celebration week in April - see details on a later page. Special thanks to Tim Falla who did the research and script writing for the 'St Mary's Through the Ages' concert which will be on the Thursday - do come and join the celebration.

If you would like to volunteer in some way, or are a community group interested in being involved please email: saintmarysactivities@gmail.com.

AT ST JOHN'S CHURCH, BRIDGETOWN

Eastertide music Mike Gibbons

Holy Week is the busiest period of music-making in the church year, even more than Christmas. The church choir will sing four services in the week, with a range of music from the most serious to a joyful Easter Sunday.

To make this even more demanding, Easter Sunday falls on the first Sunday of the month, which means the choir will sing on Sunday morning, then again at Choral Evensong at 6.30pm, augmented by many other members of the Evensong Choir drawn from across the South Hams, and joined by St Mary's own Junior Choir. This is a chance to sing some much-loved choral items such as "This Joyful Eastertide" and "The Strife is O'er", while the Juniors will sing a contemporary song "Children of the Risen King". The canticles are the Stanford in C settings of the Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis.

That is not all... the week after Easter sees the Uplift! Celebration Week to mark the Reopening of St Mary's. The Evensong Choir will play a major role in "St Mary's Through The Ages" on Thursday 9th April, with music by Tallis, Purcell, S.Wesley, John Ireland and much more! Rehearsals started in March and will continue across Easter. The choir will be joined by the Divertimento String Quartet and journey back in time to music of the past 1000 years, including an appearance by the Crediton West Gallery Quire recalling the days when the singers and instrumentalists were at the back of St Mary's in a gallery where the organ is now. Don't miss this free evening's entertainment!

Talking of organs, we're delighted to welcome back recitals by Peter King on 7th April and Andrew Millington on 10th April. Both much-loved players of our great "Father Willis' organ. Their lunchtime recitals follow the Friends Cafe, and start at 1pm. They're free - donations welcome!

The final event of the Uplift! Celebration is a coup for Totnes as St Mary's hosts Steve Knightley's tour called "Sanctuary - Songs from Sacred Spaces". Steve is well-known as one half of the folk band "Show of Hands", and he is joined by an unusual guest, Daniel Salvatore playing handpan. This is a ticketed concert which also benefits Totnes' own 'Stepping Stones'. Tickets cost £24 and are available from the church website - search under 'Events'.

Religious poems and music for Holy Week Peter Hilken

On Tuesday 31st March at 6pm there will be a reading - by a small group of enthusiasts - of poems moving from Jesus' triumphant entry into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday, through the agony on the Cross, to the Resurrection on Easter Day. The audience will join in singing three hymns (which are also good poems). Free. The programme lasts half an hour.

Copies of the poems will be available after the reading.

On Feb 10th Archbishop Sarah (Mullally) made her first Presidential address to the General Synod of the Church of England (the governing body of the Church of England).

Excerpts edited by Alison Fisher.

“I do not carry my new responsibilities alone. We serve God’s church together, lay and ordained; uniquely reflecting God’s image into one another...

The Church of England is a Christian presence in every community. In parishes and chaplaincies across the country, day in and day out, faithful clergy and congregations worship God and love their neighbours. With every Eucharist that is offered, with every prayer said; with every child helped to flourish in our schools; with every family cared for in times of celebration and of sorrow; with every night shelter and food bank; with each worship service, youth group and community lunch; with every effort to work for justice, dignity and fairness in our nation and our world – with all of this and so much more, we live out our calling to share the love of God with those around us....

I pray that my ministry, shared with you, will be of hospitality and of breaking bread; that together we can learn to be good guests and good hosts; that we might create places where people can grow towards one another in trust, where difference is held with grace; where we offer deeply of ourselves and value the gift of one another; where we are accountable for one another’s flourishing and where healing is possible....

I pray that our practice of hospitality may be offered as a model to a polarised world, speaking into the deepening divides in our society with the possibility of hope and of healing. Our calling is to live out that hope in a fractured and anxious world. And so, we must bridge the gap, for those who have no experience of church, to encounter Christ, by offering spaces of belonging, dignity, and conversation, where the love of God is encountered and the world is changed.

Please pray for me as I pray for you.”
